Monacan

What makes Monacan? You might say the students, faculty or the spirit; but in all actuality it's a combination of these. We all work together to make our school stand out from the rest. There are so many different aspects of social and educational development here. One thing is for sure though, we are truly unique and diverse.

Monacan is known, for one reason, our dedicated and professional faculty. These teachers and staff members arrive at the time that many students are pushing the snooze button for the seventh time. They are here throughout the day, helping us and striving to make sure that the students receive an excellent education. Through their teaching ability and their caring attitude, they make this school a special place.

The ever so popular sounds of the pep rallies will continue to linger in our memories but after all, what is school without spirit? Over the course of the year we have plenty of time to show our enthusiasm about the school; with hat day or beach day we truly have earned our title as

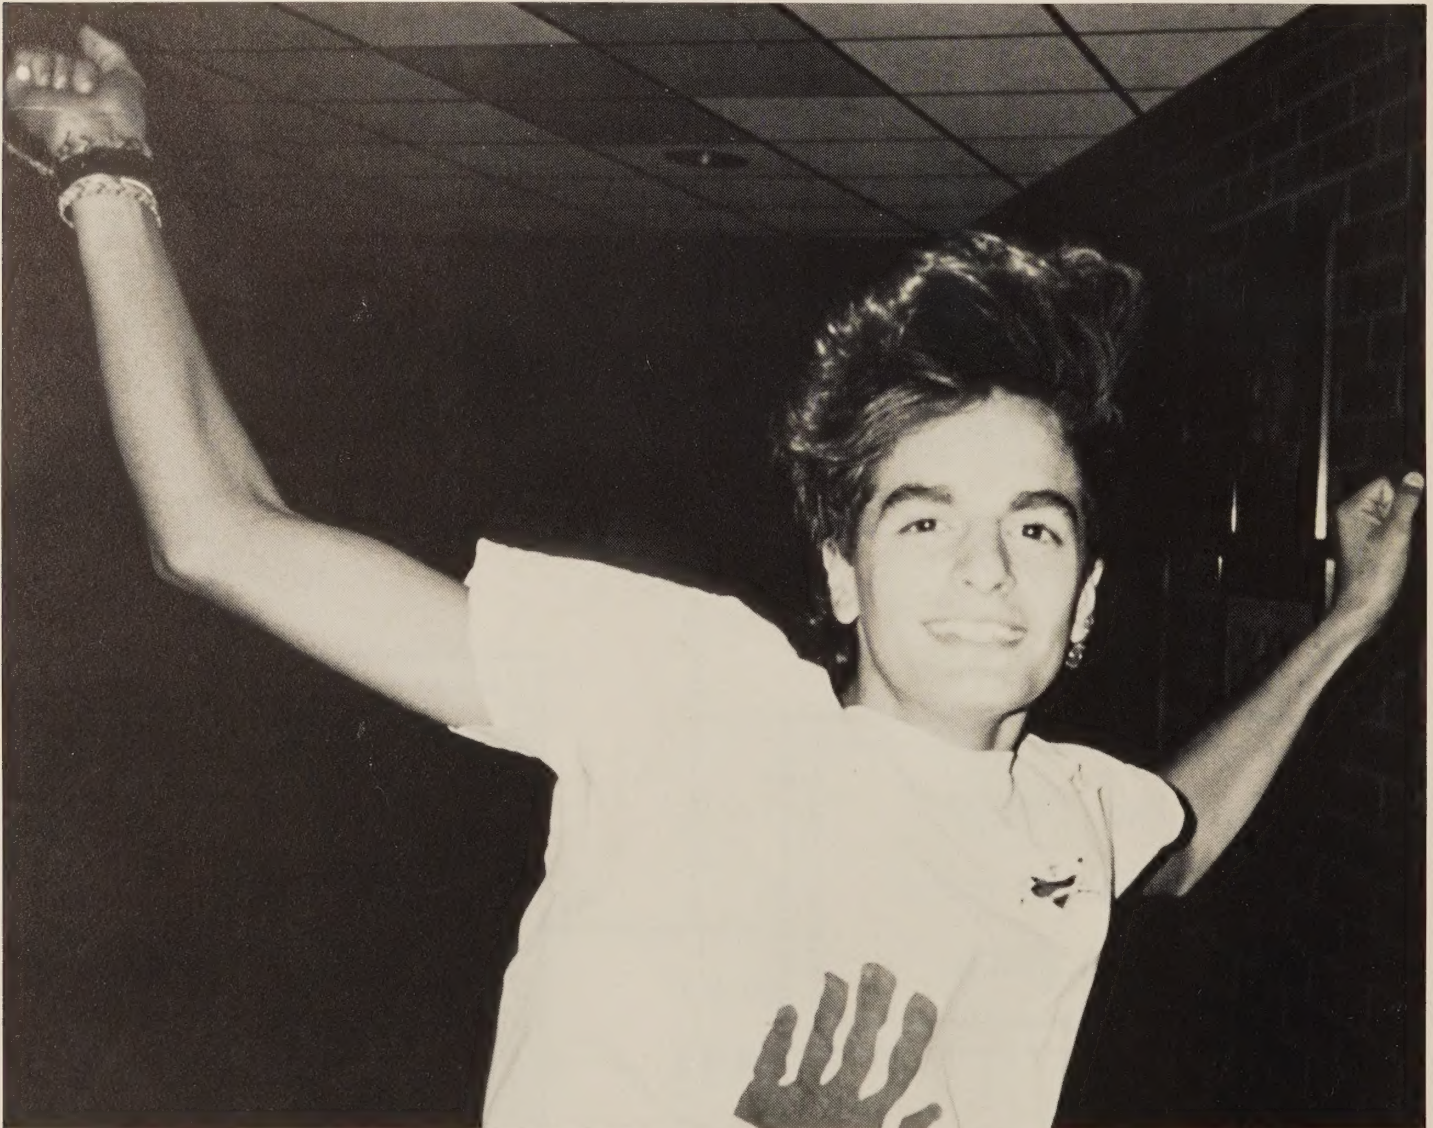

"the Proud Chiefs."

But what truly makes our school work as a whole is the wide variety of students. Each has distinct beliefs and views. Yet, no one group stands above the rest. We also have outstanding academic achievements. The students have won numerous awards, honors, and scholarships throughout the years. Many bright, successful individuals have graduated here to move on and explore their talents.

To get a broader view, we asked some teachers their opinions of Monacan. Mrs. Tina Robertson said, "The students' talents and enthusiasm really stands out." Mrs. Sanders replied, "Definitely the people. A good mix. Different backgrounds from staff to students."

It's no doubt Monacan has what it takes. We have an excellent variety from student to staff. Everyone gives their talent and enthusiasm, holding nothing back. We all work together to make our school what it is . . . the best.

Monacan

Everything changes; seldom does anything remain the same. Monacan changed greatly from '88 to '89. Many new policies were adopted as many were eliminated. The opinions of students differed with each change.

The new lunch system seemed to be pleasing to many. A fourth lunch was added to the schedule and we no longer had three overcrowded lunches. To make up for extra time, students were given a twenty minute study hall.

Students were given a freedom of choice in '88. Instead of being assigned a locker, we chose which one we'd like to have. Whenever possible students were assigned their choice. The major drawback seemed to be having to carry books and lunch bags until locker assignments could be made.

The ever popular demerit system was a goner in the 88-89 school year. Instead of getting a slip of paper, a student was asked by the individual teacher to stay after school. The administration also had to establish an administrative detention for students they saw.

New classes and clubs were offered at Monacan. We crossed a cultural line and were offered Russian and Japanese as foreign languages. New and interesting clubs were added to the already complete list at Monacan. New additions included Amnesty International and the Japanese club.

The new policies were popular with the students. They gave us a chance to change, as Monacan was new and improved in 88-89.

Things may change throughout the system, but still football games remain a favorite pastime.

Ms. Tina Robertson's plays have become a favorite of the students.

A Summer of . . .

Fun in the Sun

Well, the summer break finally came and people headed for the beaches. Myrtle Beach was the place to be, but more Monacan kids went to Virginia Beach or the Nags Head dock area. Beach Week ended in sadness as people went back to summer jobs and preparing for college. Most went to work to save money for future education while some kept on traveling with families or on school related trips.

Europe was popular this summer, Miss Pickels and Mr. Ferrel both took groups of Monacan students on trips to Europe. As productive as ever, Miss Pickels covered the most ground, visiting five different countries: Italy, Greece, Turkey, England, and France.

"Where's Paul?" became the group's question for they were always waiting for their tour guide as they toured through London, Paris, Versailles, Florence, Rome, Naples, Athens, and the Greek Isles. When asked what her fondest memories of the trip were she replied, "(The) Athens Taverna Dinner when the kids leaped upon the stage to dance and to sing with the entertainers and finally everyone in the place was having a great time but it all started with our group."

Mr. Ferrel visited England, Scotland, and Ireland taking six students from Monacan.

"I think my fondest memories of the students were the kids dropping water balloons out the hotel windows. They also enjoyed calling me on the phone very early in the morning and switching rooms on me. On the plane some stayed awake and took photos of each other sleeping."

Mr. Butta didn't go with the flow. He took his group 'down under' for an eighteen day tour of Australia.

"The best time we had dancing was up in the mountains, folk dancing. The people there were teaching us folk dances, folk songs, and that sort of thing." Mr. Butta said he would love to go again and visit New Zealand as well. He also said "Probably my favorite thing was everybody tasting vegamite, which is a paste made from yeast extract — it sort of looks like apple butter, and the Australians love it, but it tastes horrible. Just watching the kids' reaction as they ate it was great!"

After walking through Chester, England, Mr. Ferrel and Karen Durrett stop for a rest.

Billy Farrar and group seem to be enjoying England on foot.

One of many beach goers, Meredith White and her boyfriend, Shane Jenkins, vacationed at Emerald Isle in South Carolina.

Where did the weekend go???

Oh no It's MONDAY!

7:25 am — the bell rings, We've got five minutes to get to class. Some of us walk, some of us run, and some of us race to beat the tardy bell. It was pitch black dark when we got up, but we're still late.

Monday mornings are the toughest, but some of us have problems any morning getting to school on time. Those late night hours and sleeping late on the weekends upset any schedule we may have had. That bed seems pretty appealing Monday mornings and many of us roll over, cover our heads, and go back to sleep. The bad thing about being late on Monday mornings is not only does it start the day off wrong, but it starts the whole week off wrong.

I wonder if the cop at the Smoketree Recreation Association gives out more tickets on Monday mornings than any other morning.

Once you're late you still have to check into the clinic. Monacan students can be pretty creative with their excuses, "I forgot my shoes." or "I had to take my dog to the hospital."???

Mornings seem to be the worst part of the day for some students, but they seem to adjust. How do Monacan students feel about getting up early on Monday mornings after having a nice weekend?

Senior Adam Haywood states, "It's pretty rough getting up on Monday morning! You find yourself sleeping through most of your classes, especially first period. I don't think you ever recover until the next weekend."

Tammy Martin, a junior, expresses her feelings. "Oh gosh, another Monday! I dread getting out of my warm waterbed on Monday mornings. The only thing that gets me going is knowing that there will always be another weekend."

Donna Snow, also a junior, says, "Monday mornings weren't made for me to get up. The alarm goes off and I go back to sleep."

These students see the importance in coming to school, so even though they don't enjoy waking up early every Monday morning, they find some reason to persuade themselves to come to school.

Student squeezes through the door to try and beat the tardy bell.

Leslie Hamlett and friends arrive at school late. "It's going to be one of those days."

Some students are lucky enough to be escorted into the building by Mr. Ferrel.

Adam Haywood takes advantage of his handicap and comes to school late.

"I'm never ready for Mondays. I'm still not with it yet."

Mondays weren't made for me! You always know it's a Monday; everyone is late.

A Night of Magic

The 1988-89 Homecoming Dance was an exciting event for many Monacan students. The SCA began preparing for the eighth of October many weeks in advance. They decided on the theme and then decorated accordingly. The Saturday morning before the dance the SCA officers, a few representatives, and sponsor Mr. Ken Butta worked diligently to change the Upperclassman Dining Hall into a room filled with magic.

Homecoming provided the chance for dressing up and having a great time with that special guy or girl. Those attending danced to music provided by Crimson, a professional band.

The theme for the dance was "Do you believe in magic?" Two magicians, one of whom was Monacan's own Kevin Finucane, performed during the band's break. The crowd seemed to enjoy them and talked about them for several days afterwards.

Everyone enjoyed themselves as they danced the night away. Unfortunately, the night had to end. Eddie Dooley and Mike Dougherty gave an ending that no one will ever forget: a smashing duet of "Under the Boardwalk."

On the arm of Mike Peasley, Katie Snow reigns as Homecoming Queen.

A local band, Crimson, provides music for the dance.

Homecoming?

The field was empty and quiet, nothing moving under the cold lights illuminating the area. The spectators began to file into the stadium, taking their places on the cold steel bleachers. Parents, students and friends all waited for the 1988 Homecoming game to begin. All hoped for victory over the visiting team, George Wythe High School.

The festivities began with the Homecoming parade. Each club, organization and class entered the parade which ran from the parking lot of Church of the Epiphany to the track of the Monacan stadium. Although there were many well-done floats, the Future Homemakers of America stole the show with their entry. After the parade, fans waited in anticipation of the game.

They weren't disappointed. Running back Ken Brown with Leslie Hamlett and Alonzo Buller led the Chiefs to victory over George Wythe 26-6. At halftime the 1987 Homecoming Queen passed her crown to her successor, senior Katie Snow, who was then escorted off the field by Principal John Titus.

Heather Shell and Alanna Jennings led L'alliance de Francais in the Homecoming parade.

Alonzo Buller leads the Chiefs to victory over George Wythe.

Katie Snow, escorted by her brother, Kevin, walks onto the field before being crowned 1988 Homecoming Queen.

Meredith Wood as Sophomore princess is escorted by her father.

Mike Dougherty lives up to his number with this spectacular catch.

Rooms With Class

As the door swings open, the scent of books and chalk fill the air. The chalkboard is clean and shiny, and the desks organized in straight rows. The floor is clean and the teacher's desk is . . . well, not completely organized, but as great as it will get. Everything is peaceful and quiet and then . . . RING — the bell signals students to flush the once empty halls, and start the mad race for their classrooms.

As the students enter the room, and take their seats, the desks are no longer aligned. They now resemble an obstacle course to be dodged by each student in order to take their place. As the teacher approaches, the students are automatically silenced. Lessons are taught as the students give their sometimes divided attention. The chalkboard is no longer clean, and is now covered with something similar to chicken scratch. The floors are layered with paper, books, and backpacks, and the teacher's desk has so many piles of paper, that it is difficult to see the teacher when she is seated.

Typical? Perhaps. But what about those out of the ordinary rooms? The ones with the funny looking desks, and the walls covered with pictures and posters.

For instance, the photography room. Not all classes have high ceilings, a big sink and a studio in the back! And what about the woodshop room?

The big wooden tables with saws. The Key Boarding room has an office atmosphere, and typewriters. Not to mention, the electrical poles extending from ceiling to floor, obstructing the path of unsuspecting students. Kitchen, living and dining room area most certainly are not common for a classroom! Home Economics class is equipped with all of this.

A change from the ordinary classroom always brightens the day. For two days, the Humanities room, 328, went back in time to the year of 1787. Mrs. Smith and Miss Pickels watched their class re-enact the Constitutional Convention. The room was decorated with red, white and blue streamers and balloons.

They even had their own version of the Liberty Bell. What a way to brighten up a boring day of lectures. Thanks to these teachers and their unusual classes, we can look forward to a change in pace.

Mark Nusbaum seems to enjoy a class where he works not with a pencil but with a spray can.

In biology the hands-on experience may be a welcomed change. Come on in.

Those few seconds before the bell rings can provide valuable information.

Chorus is a popular elective at Monacan but as always, practice makes perfect.

INDIVIDUALISM INSURED

The diversities of Monacan can be found throughout the school, in the halls, the classrooms, even the parking lots. Because of the different types of people, their views on life, tastes, and opinions always differ. From one group to another, the students and their beliefs do vary significantly.

When we conducted the survey, many of the students cooperated. Others well . . . we found that Monacan is full of comedians. The survey showed that most students have a car and pay for insurance or car payments; most had a job. Their job paid for entertainment and gas at Chevron, while parents paid for eating out, clothes, and school fees. The majority of clothes were purchased at department stores. Still, we must recognize The Limited and J-Riggins which pulled a close second. K-Mart was left in the dust.

Students went "out" on weekends, most not letting on where they go, but movies, eating out, and to China were popular answers. Dates were taken on trips to Europe and to the movies. McDonald's was the favorite restaurant with the K-Mart eatery pulling a close second. The movies were seen at the new Cloverleaf Eight Cinemas and comedy was the favorite type of movie.

And to please all of the rock 'n' rollers, XL-102 was the most requested radio station. Q-94 was a definite second, with rock as the favorite type of music.

With so many different types of people at Monacan, it's not surprising that there are so many different tastes. Although several places, facilities, and styles kept appearing, this year's trend of individualism insured that there will always be a variety of tastes and ideas.

42nd Street

During the first months of school, students worked hard to put together the fall production, 42nd Street. Ms. Tina Robertson was the director of the play.

The play opened with the scene set in 1933, in New York and Philadelphia. It was about a young girl from Allentown named Peggy Sawyer, who was portrayed by Debbie Huff. Her number one goal was to make it on Broadway. She arrived in New York and went to the auditions for "Pretty Lady", written by Maggie Jones (Francie Sheperd) and Burt Bary (Mike Howson). When she arrived at the auditions, the dance instructors, Andy Lee (Jim Morgan) and Mac (Rick Booker) were teaching the chorus girls new steps.

Julian Marsh (Scott Cribbs), Director of "Pretty Lady," tells Peggy that there are not openings left. Then the star of "Pretty Lady," Dorothy Brock (Jessica Meggison), arrived with her "Sugardaddy," Abner Dillon (Darren Jinks). When Peggy came back to the place of auditioning and the chorus girls, Annie (Bené Lippin), Phyllis (Karen Hawkins), Loraine (Melissa Young), Diane (Jodi Porter), Ethel (Katie Snow), and Gladys (Sarah Parker), told her that there was an opening for the part. They taught her the steps and Peggy was picked to fill the opening.

Then the chorus went to Philadelphia for the opening show. Tragedy struck and Dorothy broke her leg. Everyone thought the show was foiled; but, Billy Lawler (Scott Foreman), the leading man, told Ms. Sawyer that she could accept the offer of leading lady presented to her by Julian Marsh.

On opening night, Dorothy Brock came to Peggy and told her that she made her finally realize that her place was with her true love Pat Denning (Shawn Burnette). The play goes on without a hitch.

Band in Britain

A trip everyone dreams of, London, or Paris. Our Monacan band had the opportunity to perform in London. The band described it as fun, exciting, and even educational. In the process of having a little fun, they were introduced to some new vocabulary: the tube — the subway, fish and chips — fish and fries, and lifts — elevators.

The band spent the day before performing, riding double decker busses, iceskating, and practicing their marching. It wasn't just all fun and games.

Doug La Rose described his favorite part of the trip, "The most interesting stop was at the Warwick Castle; it was so medieval looking and surrounded by rolling green hills."

While the band was in London it had the opportunity to try new cultures of food. They expressed their feelings on this issue, "The food was pretty bland; it didn't have much taste. Each night after we had our so-called dinner we went down to the nearby McDonald's. I have never loved McDonald's as much as I did that week."

The band had many accomplishments while they were in London, but Doug La Rose expresses the biggest accomplishment of the trip, "Even if the trip hadn't been successful in performing, it brought the band closer together as a whole. Spending a week together, I guess would have that effect." Our band has got talent!

Making Bucks & Spending Them

With today's economy many students have jobs after school and on weekends. Students can be found working in places ranging from McDonald's to Mortons Jewelers. Putting in long hours is part of the price students must pay to have their independence.

One of the most popular places to work is the mall. Whether at Chesterfield Towne Center or Cloverleaf Mall, students can be found making those bucks around every corner. This has become the normal scene in the life of a teenager.

Now that these students have made all of this money it has to be spent somewhere. Lisa Paschall, a senior said, "The thing I spend the most money on is entertaining myself and my friends. (i.e.: videos and films.)" The most common places to spend, spend, spend are the movies, the record store, on clothes, at concerts, and at the new teen dance clubs which have been popping up around Richmond such as, ROCKNXS, ROCKITS, and T. Finnigans. Other students must pay for car insurance, car payments, and gas money.

One junior said "When I walk in a store, I look for what I like, not who made it." As the fashion today is to dress how you feel, and be yourself. Many students no longer look at brand names on clothing. Since many pay for their clothing, the price is more important to them than the name on the tag.

In high school students reach that age when they become adults. Drivers' licenses and cars, jobs, romance, and other events create a different person than the freshman that first entered this school. Cars and a busy social life create an atmosphere where a student can live for four years in their own world before entering the "real" one.

Make it and spend it.

CHOW TIME!

Lunch, the meal eaten in the middle of the day, between breakfast and dinner. The time of the day that the students look forward to the most. A time to fill our growling stomachs and to catch up with some friends.

A few changes have been made in the lunch schedule. The reason behind this change was so that lunches wouldn't be as crowded and the lines would move more quickly. The additional lunch period resulted in a study hall for all students.

The students have a daily choice of hamburgers and grilled cheese. Yet, the favorite choice seems to be the chicken filet sandwich and pizza. Some other favorites are rolls, chocolate chip cookies, and honey buns.

During lunch the students do many things besides eating, from voting and paying dues to homework and studies. But lunch is primarily used for the social aspect, to plan the upcoming weekend and discuss the past one.

If it weren't for lunch we might not have a chance to talk to some friends and cram for sixth period's test.

Fancy Footwork

As lights dim, bodies are restless as Mr. Graham enters the auditorium and takes his seat behind the piano. He gives the signal. Notes flow from out of the piano as lights brighten to show a rainbow of colors. The costumes sparkle as the chorus comes to life.

The chorus is "composed" of several groups including Chamber Ensemble, Girls' Chorus, Concert Choir, and Show Choir. These groups perform separately and also together. These groups perform at concerts such as the Winter and Spring concerts, Show Choir's Cabaret dinner, Festival competition, and "Middle schools to Monacan." In spring, Drama and Chorus teamed up when Centerstage went to New York. They sang at the UN building and attended Broadway shows. Many students have taken chorus for many years. A junior in Show Choir said "Over the past three years, chorus has helped me make friends. It has helped me be more outgoing." Another student stated, "I enjoy the singing and dancing incorporated together in the Show Choir. It has been a fun learning experience."

As the lights dim and the vibrant colors of the costumes fade, the concert is coming to a close. The stream of sounds from the piano ceases and Mr. Graham takes his bow. The concert is over.

AFTERSCHOOL

Throughout the school year many practices took place. These practices have involved time and energy from both the students and those faculty members involved.

The first drama production this year was 42nd Street, directed by drama teacher Ms. Tina Robertson. One of her students, Ginna Kettells, said, "Drama, I think, is just about the best class any student could take; not just the ones who are interested in becoming an actor or actress. It helps you to learn how to speak in front of a crowd, how to become a leader, and how to gain confidence. In drama we do many projects such as one act plays, scenes, monologues, make-up, everything and anything that has to do with the theatre. We even write and direct our own scenes." This may look like a lot of fun, but in actuality, it's really a lot of work. Jim Morgan, a senior, also believes, "Being in 42nd Street has been one of the most challenging roles that I have had. A lot of sweat, stress, and tears have flown in and out of me; but in the end, it's worth it. 42nd Street will be a fine performance. It's hard to keep my priorities in line; a lot of times I take performing over academics and that causes friction." The work involved is time consuming and the hours involved are full of practicing parts, memorizing lines, and working together as a team to make the production complete.

Other practices have involved sports. They happened after school, since there was more time to accomplish needed work. Football was one of the big ones. The guys practiced vigorously after school in order to prepare themselves for the upcoming games. Their practice sessions were long and hard; but hopefully beneficial when it came to game time. Bill Scott of the varsity football team said "Football is a very exciting sport for me. It's hard work but it pays off during the games. Practice starts in the summer, and during school it lasts from about 2:30 until 5:30. It surely doesn't give me much free time. Between school, practice, and studying, my only free time is on week-ends." Other sports, like field hockey and cross-country, involved time and sweat too. Again these sports always demand endurance and teamwork. Jeanna Saggese of the field hockey team said, "Field hockey helps to teach you how to work with other people, as one person. This cooperation is very important to a winning team. Practices are long (from 2:00 to 4:15 p.m.), and hard (sprint, cross-country, drills, and scrimmages), but definitely worth it when we win. We have gotten over some personality conflicts and have learned to play like a real team should." Teamwork is the key in sports, and practice is the only way to get it.

But sports aren't the only practice after school; band, flags, and cheerleading are there too. "When school starts, after school practices begin. That's where it's the toughest because all that's left to do now is to perfect the show. And while you're out there, it's hard to concentrate. Very hard. It's usually boiling hot. You're tired from school and you know you have to go home and do major amounts of homework; some of us even have jobs to go to straight from practice." said Ginna Kettells of the flag squad.

Those with invitations to detention hall are certainly not the only ones who are here long after the 1:40 bell. It's not easy to stay after school for practice, but each practice has stayed and tried to accomplish the coordination and perfection to be the best.

HOME LIFE

After school most kids retreat home for an afternoon of relaxation and satisfaction of the soaps, cartoons, or talk shows. You can always find a way to make the most of your time. After you pry yourself away from the refrigerator it is time to sit back and relax. After a period of recuperation from the day's activities you finally sit down and get yourself settled to get into your homework. As you begin your concentration is broken by the sounds of your little brother or sister coming home from school. Now your responsibilities may turn to watching them until your parents get home from work. Probably the biggest and best thing to do after school is either sleep for a while or talk on the phone. If you don't feel like that, then usually a friend, boyfriend, or girlfriend can come over to fill in the time when you have nothing else to do. Most of the time you have to leave your house and go to work, but some may have to leave right after school and not even come home until later on in the night. Or if you don't go to work, your parents will usually make a list of things for you to do, such as, wash dishes, clean up your room, or feed your pets. Time with parents means talking over the day's events, eating dinner, or watching television. Then when everything is done you can finally go to sleep just to wake up and have the whole cycle repeat until the weekend comes. On weekends you can go out at night or babysit. During the day you might enjoy doing something with your parents, older brother or sister or you might just decide to be alone and do something by yourself. But all in all, your home is always a place where you can go for caring and love, from the ones who love you and who are a part of your life.

The best seat in the house . . .

BLEACHERS

You have just bought your ticket. You enter and you go straight to those long elevated seats with the holes under them, better known as bleachers. You pick one out and sit down on the cold, uncomfortable seat. You put your bag on the step in front of you and begin to watch the game as a man gets up and starts walking your way.

"Excuse me," he says to everyone he bumps. He now gets to you. Just as he announces "Excuse me," he bumps your bag and it falls through the holes under the seats. He says, "Sorry" and proceeds.

Now it is your turn to go down the line saying excuse me. You finally find your bag just as it starts to rain and you realize your raincoat is in the car.

You know that if you exit the field you will have to pay to get back in. So you go back up and sit in your seat. Slowly people begin to leave until you are the only one left. You are soaked, as water runs down your face. The announcer says that the game is cancelled.

The next day you get up with the worst cold you have ever had. Now wasn't that a fun experience on the BLEACHERS?

That is probably the worst thing that can happen to someone and it usually doesn't happen that way. Usually you see people walking around talking, laughing, and having a good time.

Matt Dalton was asked how he felt about bleachers. He responded, "They're like Sweden, neutral. They're there if you need them and they bother you if you don't."

Students were asked what could best replace the bleachers. "Recliner chairs, because they're much more comfortable. They don't get hot or cold with the temperature," replied Janet Bryant. Bether Johnson said, "Hundreds of contour adjustable chairs." Perhaps the students in the pictures have the best ideas for what to do during the game. They never sit down.

Crystal Cambell, Gwynn McCreary and Mark Hannon taking their own time and talking over the evening's Jenny Hable is caught by surprise during a short break between cheers.

Sideline visits with friends makes Jennifer Morgan a football fan.

For socializing and watching, these are perhaps the most important part of the game, THE BLEACHERS.

During our first pep rally our award winning band gives it their all in hopes of drowning out the yells of the students showing their spirit.

Inherit the Wind

The Battle of Creationism vs. Evolution during the 1920's was depicted by the Act I Company in their Spring play, Inherit the Wind. It revolves around the Scopes Monkey Trial. In May, the drama department presented a wonderful rendition of this controversial play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee.

The production started in February when the cast was auditioned and selected in a three day process. Although the rehearsals started slowly, the play progressed well. The backstage production team, with the help of Mrs. McGrath, used all of their time designing, building, and painting the elaborate stage.

In late March, the play developed into a first-class production. The Invitational Dress Rehearsal was a huge success, receiving rave reviews.

But the real test was the three main productions. The tickets sold slowly but a crowd still filled the theatre.

The production went smoothly. Jim Morgan, who portrayed Drummond, a lawyer, developed his character beautifully, hitting every satirical note right on key. Brady, played by Danny Crawford, depicted his character as the holier-than-thou figure he was. The two characters, supported by a wonderful cast of country townspeople, gave a sturdy backbone to the entire plot. Other main characters included Mike Howson, as the purely evil E. K. Hornbeck, and Scott Foreman, as the man on trial, Burt Kates.

In the climax of the play, Drummond breaks Brady's unshakable belief in creationism.

Drama students Darron Thomas, Melissa Young, and Crystal Oley, used their past plays to make this a success.

Jim Morgan, portraying Drummond, and Scott Foreman as Kates, stood side by side in the courtroom in defense of the right to think.

Looking somewhat confused, Michael Howson as Hornbeck, concentrated on his character.

The townspeople of Hillsboro gathered in the courtroom as the trial begins.

FRENCH CLUB

L'Alliance Francaise, or the French Club, as it is commonly known, is a club designed to promote the French language, people, and culture. With about 60 members, the club planned many activities to fulfill its purpose. The club was able to participate in several activities and charities with the help of sponsor Mrs. Anne Driscoll and the many officers. Co-presidents Tommy Leverton and William Chen, vice-president Alanna Jennings, secretary Valerie King, treasurer Kevin Cousins, and historian Magda Drenowski all helped to plan these events.

Among the many activities planned by the club were the International Café, the Progressive Dinner, the candy sales fundraiser, the Annual Christmas Party, the French Picnic in the Park in November, and the End of the Year Picnic. The club also planned several charity and community works, paying visits to Johnston Willis Hospital to sing Christmas carols and to give out treats to the children on Valentine's Day. The French Club also planned a trip to Washington, D.C. in the spring for the enjoyment of its members. The French Club has made many endeavors to try and promote the French culture.

SPANISH CLUB

Club members casually await instruction on how to finish their projects.

Señora Wright tells everyone of future plans for the club.

Club members attentively watching Señora Wright to find out what they will do next.

As you walked into a Spanish club meeting you might have heard things like ¿Como te llamas tu?, which means what is your name. You might also have heard ¿Que tal? which means — how are you. You would have also seen Señora Wright teaching the club members new and interesting things to do.

The Spanish club met on Wednesday with an average of 55 per meeting. Eddie Zerkle was president and John Cogbill was vice president. The club had a few committees of five which planned their activities.

The Spanish club learned the Cha-Cha with the help of Señora Wright and Señora Yoder. They also learned to make paper flowers and had many guest speakers who spoke Spanish.

In addition to these activities the Spanish Honors Society tutored other students who were having difficulty mastering the language.

There was a dance planned by the Spanish club for themselves and some of the other clubs. The Spanish club also went to selected Spanish restaurants for a taste of their food and an inside look at their culture. Any way you look at it, the Spanish club or the SHS is definitely worth looking into.

GERMAN CLUB

Every year the German Club takes on projects for their members. This year they opened up with the Homecoming float. Other activities that were scheduled were the Oktoberfest, St. Nikolaus party, caroling at the nursing home, International Café, spring picnic, and trip to Pennsylvania. Members of the German Club had the honor of participating in these events.

The officers of the 1988-89 German Club were: co-presidents Matt Carra and Nicki Rhode, co-vice-presidents Bartek Drewnowski and Stacy Young, secretary LeAnn Scott and Jeanna Saggese, treasurer Chris Parker and historian Margaret Sullivan. These officers worked with Frau Cashwell to provide an exciting year, and helped keep the German Club going smoothly. Their time and hard work were shown through the activities scheduled throughout this year.

The German Club also had three native German students in the club. Students taking German were able to learn from these three students. Mathias Bottcher, Wolfgang Eichele, Marie Milz attended classes and participated in club activities.

Not only did the club members have the privilege of participating in the activities sponsored by their club, but also they had enjoyed the friendships that each of them developed over the school year.

Latin may be a dead language, but the Latin Club is alive and kicking. Sponsored by Mrs. Wagstaff, the group of students was an active one, participating in such activities as Homecoming Float, Ludi volleyball at Thomas Dale, and Certamina, a takeoff of Battle of the Brains.

The Latin Club was associated with the Virginia Junior Classical League, a statewide organization. On November 18th and 19th, in Norfolk, the group took a trip to the VJCL convention for a weekend of competition and games. In April, VJCL had their annual games day, a day of fun and sports Latin style.

This summer, a few students were chosen to participate in the National Junior Classical League convention at the University of Indiana, in Pennsylvania. During this week in August, these students took place in competitions on the national level.

The group was headed by Leslie Yonce and Daniel Corcoran, Bryon Cuomo as vice-president, secretary Inga Clough, treasurer Amy Window, parliamentarian Paul Joyner, and historian Darrel Jennerette. The consultant for the Forum newspaper was Brent Roberts.

JAPANESE CLUB

The Japanese Club was another new edition this year, adding itself to the numerous organizations at Monacan. Its purpose was to encourage and promote Japanese culture, language, and people. The club accepted students as members even if they did not take the language. The only requirements were an interest in the Japanese culture and dues of course.

The club engaged in such activities as the International Café, Japanese dinners at students' houses and field trips. Mrs. Oomori, the Japanese teacher and the club's sponsor, helped to plan such activities. For its first year, Japanese Club proved popular with many students joining.

YEARBOOK

You want what? When?

It was business as usual for the yearbook staff. Certainly there was nothing new or different. All we had to do was design these pages, take these photos, crop these photos, learn a quad pack from a ladder and keep smiling. Sometimes it really wasn't easy after all, and it really was new for most of the staff.

With Matt Dalton as editor, a theme was chosen. Lots of enthusiasm met the idea of an anniversary issue. Then we realized we were a year too early to celebrate and quickly went back to the drawing board! "Chiefly Monacan" was a natural.

Jodi Miller and Mary Becker were selected as section editors and soon found the help of others was a necessity. As in any other year there were those students and those teachers who, for a variety of reasons, made our job easier. Even as the year ended, our appreciation grew for these special people.

NEWSPAPER

"Congratulations, you have just purchased a piece of history."

"Student expression is upon us. Never before have we felt such a need to be heard in our school." These words written by Dan Blanchard and printed in "Independent Voice" emphasized the need for a school paper. With this need identified the journalism class began the difficult first year.

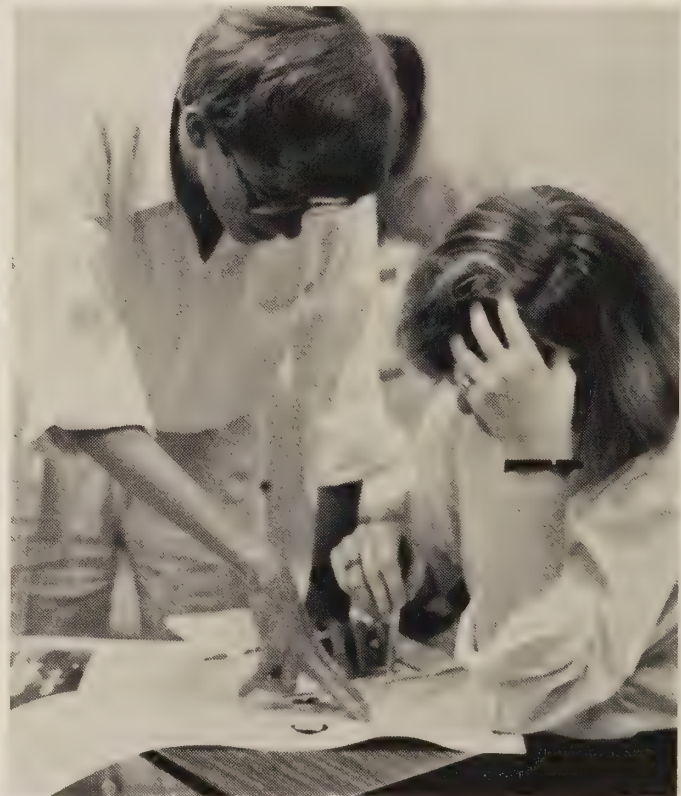

Beginnings are often rocky. While newspapers, "The Monacan Underground" and "The Scout", had paved the way, the intent changed to a more traditional design. The staff quickly learned the limitations and responsibilities of school journalism.

"Independent Voice", a paper for you, by you, and because of you, "represented the dream of a student voice."

After School Time Was Involved

NHS

The Larry J. Elliot Chapter of the National Honor Society spent another busy year providing service for the school and the community. Each member worked diligently as a participant in the many club sponsored activities. The 1988-89 school year proved to be eventful and constructive as the National Honor Society filled each month with a major service project worth recognition.

As the year opened, the NHS began its quest to aid students in their pursuit of academic excellence. Tutoring students at both Monacan and Gordon Elementary became a major project for the organization. At Monacan, the members spent many hours after school helping students in every area. Together with coordinators at Gordon Elementary, the members also helped young students develop critical learning skills. The efforts of NHS members to extend themselves and their abilities benefitted many students throughout the year.

The year really began to roll along as NHS members became involved in monthly service projects. In October the NHS took the opportunity to provide the community with Halloween entertainment. Working with the Forest View Rescue Squad volunteers, the NHS members constructed a haunted house open to everyone at no charge. For their December project the club members provided a much needed community service. The NHS sponsored a needy family at Christmas, providing two young children with their Christmas wish, bicycles with training wheels. In addition, clothing and food were collected to help the family enjoy the Christmas season. Finally, the parents were presented with a Christmas dinner prepared from the donated food and capping off the priceless gifts presented by the NHS participants.

December was also the host of the induction of new members into the Larry J. Elliot Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Students having at least a 3.6 grade point average were eligible for induction into the NHS. These students applied for membership and were then evaluated on the four areas characteristic of all NHS members — scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Then, in a formal ceremony, the new members were inducted into the NHS and became a part of the nationally recognized organization.

In January, as exam time came around, the NHS members were again available to aid students in studying for their semester exams. Numerous members dedicated their spare time to helping tutor students at the exam review sessions held each night before exams were to be given. Hopefully, students were able to benefit from the members' donation of their time.

Spring also proved to be a rather eventful season for NHS members. At Easter the NHS again sponsored a needy family. Members gathered food and needed items to be donated to the family so that they too, could enjoy the holiday season. A major project of the NHS was helping run the Special Olympics. Members took this opportunity to again donate their time to helping less fortunate individuals enjoy life. Each member participated in this most successful event, bringing joy and a sense of accomplishment to everyone involved.

As the year came to a close, the junior members of NHS planned the dinner banquet for NHS seniors. The evening was filled with great food and entertainment. Sponsors Mrs. L. Lewis and Ms. Miller joined the members in reviewing the successful year's events. The officers — president Jeremy Holdsworth, vice president Lynda Holley, secretary Erin Tilley, treasurer Ron Eliasek, and historian Stacey Tan — passed their duties on to the future leaders of the NHS along with their best wishes for another memorable year for the National Honor Society.

NAHS

NAHS, the National Art Honor Society, is a group of talented art students who have excelled in using their creativity in physical form. The qualifications for membership include an A or B average and interest in art.

NAHS did a number of extracurricular activities, such as the poster sale, in which the art department sold posters to raise money for the trip to Washington, D.C. The NAHS arranged the trip for members, as well as the art classes, to visit the National Gallery of Art and other secondary galleries.

NAHS also takes part in tutoring elementary students at W. W. Gordon Elementary. Feliza Torres, a senior, has participated in this for the past three years. She comments, "I like to work with kids. It's interesting and fun. It also is really good experience for anyone who wants to be a teacher. I would encourage others to take this opportunity."

During the course of last year, NAHS took trips to Maymont Park for sketching trips. Also, the group went to several openings of Richmond Galleries on Saturday afternoons.

The president, Robin Johnson, expressed the overall theme by saying, "In NAHS, one is given the opportunity to experience more than the average art student." The other officers included Vice-President, Darian Rice, Secretary, Becky Young, and historians Marnie Clough and Heather Barna. Betty Brinser, who has been at Monacan for ten years, is the sponsor.

PEER FACILITATORS

Friends helping friends — that's the idea behind the Monacan Peer Facilitators. Each year, students who sign up for Mr. Cook's Sociology class are given the opportunity to apply to become a P.F. Those who are selected include a wide variety of people from different cliques and levels. The first-year Peer Facilitators take Mr. Cook's Sociology class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and Mr. Vasko's Peer Facilitating class on Tuesday and Thursday. The P.F. class includes instruction on listening skills, and other basics of Peer Facilitating. They are mostly involved with helping new students adjust to their new school. The second-year P.F.'s have a separate class, taught by Mrs. Woods. The Peer Two's and Three's deal with more serious problems of students. The P.F.'s act upon the idea that teens are more likely to talk and open up to a peer, rather than an adult.

INTERACT

Interact was a co-ed service club co-sponsored by the Bon Air and Midlothian Rotary Clubs in response to many neglected needs of the community, for instance the litter on the highways. The club was created to aid several charity organizations such as the homeless. Interact was involved with both local and international movements. The club was built on the idea that one person can make a difference, everyone's opinion means something and on the belief that we have a responsibility to work together. If we don't work together then nothing will be successful.

The club had president Allie McKemy and as vice president Amy Fahnstock with the help of David Adcock as treasurer and Kristin Pavick as secretary. The club had a convention in April. They also planned to adopt a highway to try and keep it litter free. What a job! They visited a nursing home and acted the roll of concerned citizens by helping out the homeless.

Interact was a way to show that teens care.

FBLA

Mrs. Gerry Mick took on a big responsibility as advisor for the Future Business Leaders of America. The year started out with offices to be filled, and the opening meeting to be planned. Membership dues were being collected, and the 1988-89 Monacan FBLA was being formed.

Many activities were planned for the year, and the first on the list was the Fall Regional Workshop at Virginia State University in Petersburg. Mrs. Mick, two officers, and four other members made the journey to Petersburg.

Like other clubs, FBLA was active in fund-raisers. Members sold candy, candles, greeting cards, and first aid kits. Prizes were given for top sales people throughout the different drives.

Once again the annual FBLA project, Project ASK, was held to help those children with cancer. Students raised money through a Type-A-Thon held during each class period and $1,500 was raised.

At Christmas, three families were adopted through Social Services of Chesterfield County. Students brought in donations of food, clothes, and toys to make it a Merry Christmas.

The Future Business Leaders of America were once again successful in providing an eventful year. They were active in providing for members and the people in the community. It continued to turn out a qualified group of workers into the business world.

Jennifer Garner and Chris Caffery know that FBLA means fun, while other students find it's a little hard work too.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America continued to have another successful year at Monacan this past year. They planned many activities, charities, and field trips to help their members improve personal, family, and community living, and to develop their leadership abilities. Members of FHA, sponsor Mrs. Denise Pendergrass, and officers Allison Thorborg, Quynh Nhu

Doan, Debbie Anderson, Tammy Anderson, and Cathy Niciphor helped plan these activities. Once again FHA won second place for their Homecoming float in October. In the following month, FHA sponsored the College Night Hospitality Reception. In December they held their annual Faculty Christmas Party as well as their own FHA

Christmas Party. Other activities included the Cake Bake Off, March Culture Month, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. FHA also had speakers on self-defense and on image and appearance. The group planned charity work. Save-a Sweet-Heart happened in February; it was a program to stop teenage smoking. In October members dressed up in Halloween costumes and handed out candy to patients at Chippenham Hospital. A field trip was also planned. Members went to a luncheon at Kabutos and experienced a new culture and taste in food. With so many activities and charity events, FHA would definitely be considered successful.

FRIENDS, FRIENDS, FRIENDS . . .

That's What Clubs Were For

DECA

DECA had a fun-filled and exciting year. One hundred and five students joined to develop leadership in the field of marketing, to create and nurture an understanding of our free, competitive enterprise system, and to develop an appreciation of the civic and social obligations of those engaged in marketing careers. Kim Terbush took charge as president with Amy Pickral as her sidekick. Other officers included Tammy Martin as secretary, Julie Canter as reporter, and Alan Woody as photographer.

Activities were well planned by Mrs. Julie Moore and Mrs. Donna Gainous. Throughout the year, the students participated in the District Leadership Conference in February and then representatives went on to attend the state leadership conference in March. The Annual Employer Appreciation banquet was held in May for the Marketing Cooperative Education Students. The officers of DECA attended the officers training workshop at J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College. Funds for these activities were raised through "Balloons For You," with extra profit going to the Ronald McDonald House.

The Monacan chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America definitely had a memorable year, through club loyalty, wonderful sponsors, and a supportive school.

SCIENCE CLUB

The 1988-89 school year was an active one for the Monacan Science Club. Beginning their second year as club sponsors, Mr. Martin Goehle and Mr. Charles Conrad supervised a busy year for the club. The Science club has always remained on the move and this year was no exception.

The purpose of the Science Club is to promote awareness of environmental science. To this end the Science Club sponsored a lecture on radiation and its effect on the environment. She spoke to a group of interested students last December. Another activity participated in for the benefit of all was the cleanup of school grounds last fall.

The club engaged in many activities for the benefit of Science Club members. One of these was the adoption of a Grey Fox as part of Maymont Park's Adopt-An-animal program. The club also coordinated an organized astronomy program that was active in the clear nights of the winter months. Club members visited, as a group, last year's Virginia Junior Academy of Sciences competition at VCU.

One of the most exciting aspects of the Club was the numerous interesting field trips. The first trip was to the Moorefield Mines in Midlothian to better understand the reason for Midlothian's growth during the Civil War. Another trip was to Fall's Cape/Back Bay on the Virginia coastline to observe beach and oceanic wildlife.

Once again the Monacan Science Club proved that scientifically interested students can make a difference in their surroundings and, more importantly, in themselves.

ECOLOGY CLUB

One of the exciting and informative clubs was the Ecology Club. This club not only gave students a pleasant afternoon at school but also encouraged an awareness of environmental issues. The club sponsor, Mrs. Jill Quinley, who is an active environmentalist herself, shared her concerns about the environment with the club.

With the leadership of Mrs. Quinley and the club president, Cindy Toenniessen, the club did a number of things. During the fall the club helped to beautify the school by planting tulip bulbs in the upperclass courtyard. The bright yellow and red colors, clearly visible in the spring, were the reward the club received. The members also attended a trip to Port Isabel/Tangier Island, in the Chesapeake Bay. During this trip, they were given a clear understanding of the problems of the Bay. The members got to travel through ecosystems and learned how they worked. They went marsh mucking and then in contrast, spent time on the beach for crabbing and shaft tonging. For their continued efforts and interests in the ecology the club is to be commended.

SADD

Drinking and driving is the second largest cause for teenage deaths, next to suicide. Monacan's chapter, Students Against Drunk Driving, sponsored by Mr. Bryan Carr, was formed to work against this. The purpose of SADD was to alert people to the dangers of driving while intoxicated. One of the largest chapters in the state, Monacan boasted about 250 members.

Last summer SADD president Crystal Cambell attended the Youth Alcohol and Drug Use Prevention Project, a seminar where SADD chapters from across the state met to exchange ideas and information. The central idea behind all chapters is the Contract for Life, a contract signed by students and parents alike. With this contract a student pledged that if they have been drinking he or she will call the other for a ride home, no questions asked.

SADD participated in many activities throughout the year to prevent drinking and driving. One of these was SADD week in December. Special events designed to promote student awareness on the dangers of drinking and driving were given each day of the week. The most influential day during SADD week was the day members wore white paint on their faces and were prohibited from talking. These members represented the number of people who die in DUI related accidents. SADD also sponsored Red String Day on which students could have a red string tied around their wrist at the beginning of the weekend to remind them not to drink and drive. Students were given SADD keychains the next Monday if they still wore the string. SADD also sponsored T-shirt Day again.

The spring was the busiest time of the year. In May, SADD held a "Spring Fling," a cookout and outside concert held in the stadium which featured four bands. SADD members also visited middle schools across the county to talk with rising freshmen about the pressures they would face as high school students. And, of course, SADD hosted its highly successful Post Prom Party again which featured dancing, casino gambling, and local radio personalities.

Continuing the tradition, SADD reminded everyone of the dangers of drinking and driving without preaching, served as a guide to having fun without endangering your life and helped to prevent one of the largest causes of teenage death.

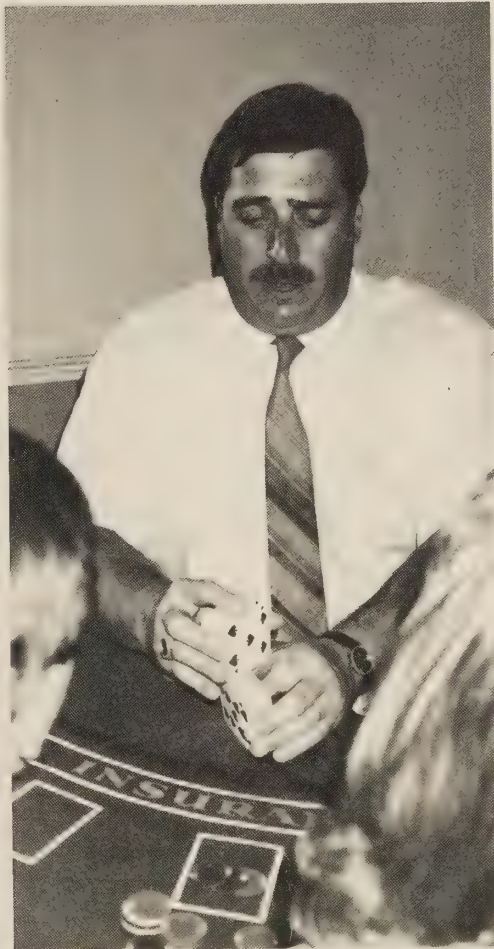

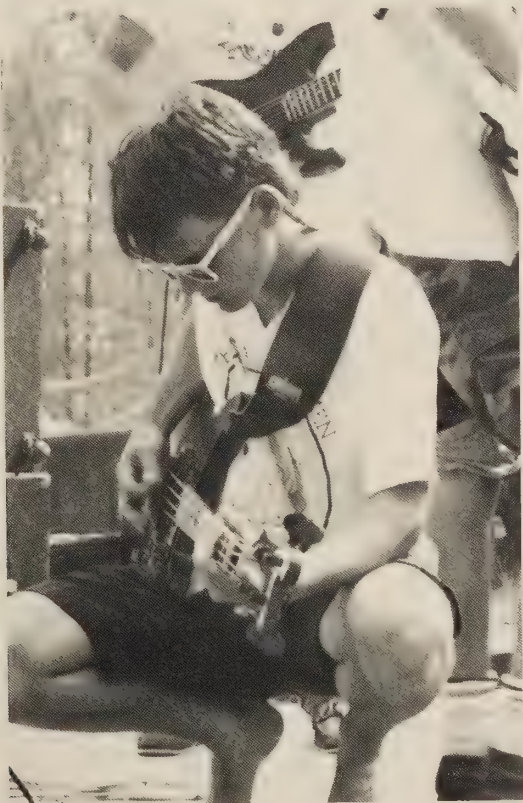

SADD makes a difference.

DEBATE AND FORENSICS

Monacan's Debate and Forensics team has worked hard this year to retain their outstanding reputation. They have traveled to Philadelphia, Gatlinburg, and Longwood College. Both teams have won many awards, bringing honor to Monacan.

In Debate, Chris Lange took first place at Longwood. Ana Dzura won Honorary Senior Debate Award for Monacan. At Gatlinburg, Amy Wilson won first place in the Speaker Award, and David Frydrychowski won fifth place. In Forensics, Francie Shepherd took first place in Humorous Interpretation at every tournament except Gatlinburg. Darrick Booker took second place in Humorous Interpretation at VSCA and first place in After Dinner Speaking. Jim Morgan took first place in Dramatic Interpretation and second place in the triathlon at Gatlinburg. Mark Redford took second place in Humorous Interpretation at Gatlinburg.

Mrs. Cindy Bomboske, along with assistant coach Mrs. K. B. Lewis, was the sponsor who provided these talented students with help and encouragement.

Jim Morgan, vice president, said he owed a lot of his talent to Mrs. Bomboske. He said her talent goes unrewarded many times but with a winning team like Monacan's, without her guidance, they would never have established their reputation.

Monacan is well represented as shown by the many trophies the team have won.

ACT I COMPANY

A perfect way to describe the Act I Company is "collaboration of the imagination." Act I Co. sponsored and produced many different theatrical events last year. Other than the two annual plays, 42nd Street and Inherit the Wind, they put on the annual Neil Simon dinner theatre and musical theatre.

Act I took a trip to New York along with the Show Choir. On this trip they had a chance to see a couple of Broadway plays including "Me and My Girl." Also, the group had the opportunity to see backstage at television studios, watch production, and talk to actors and directors.

Jim Morgan, the president, regards Act I as "an opportunity to create, direct, and choreograph plays. One learns a different side of acting and theatre." Other officers include Melissa Young as vice-president, Bené Lippin as secretary, and Crystal Olley as treasurer. Tina Robertson, Monacan's drama teacher, sponsors Act I.

TECHNOLOGY STUDENTS

The Technology Student Association was headed by Mr. Kornegay and Mr. Boardway. They had 193 members and the meetings were called as needed. The co-presidents were Mike Puccinelli, Ron Eliasek and Shawn Reed and the secretary was Jamie Novotny.

Members had a goal to promote technological education and to provide an opportunity for social and competitive events.

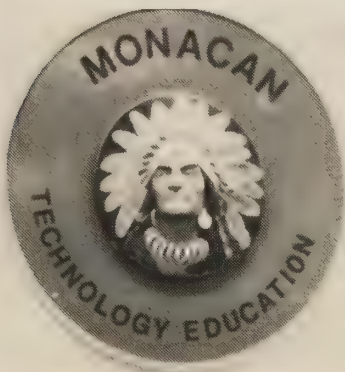

Members took first place with the Homecoming parade float and they defended the National T.S.A. championships. They also went to the HON., Co. (Office Furniture plant metal fabrication) on one of their field trips. The Technology Student Assoc. also held their annual Spring Ice-cream Social for members only and their fundraiser.

MARCHING BAND

They sat in their gold and white uniforms in the middle section of the bleachers, bursting out into songs. Tunes such as "Wipe Out" or "Surfin' U.S.A." were played when the Monacan Chiefs scored. This was a typical scene at the Monacan stadium. The Monacan Marching band demonstrated its superiority this year in the annual Richmond Jaycees Parade. They placed first overall and enjoyed the festivities as well. Tenth grader, Kevin King, said that "The marching band is a good way to make friends."

Other activities that the band participated in were fundraisers, the annual Christmas concert, Annual Spring concert, and the hosting of the V.B.O.D.A. (which is a rating competition among local bands). Also, plans for a trip to England were made.

While in London, Monacan's marching band played in a parade and enjoyed the hospitality as well as the sights. The band supported themselves through fundraising. They sold pizza, cheese, sausage, and candy. This allowed their trip to be less expensive than what was initially predicted.

Mr. Burke, marching band instructor and director, strove to see his students excel in their instrument playing. Through hard work, pushing, and encouraging, Mr. Burke has striven for his students' perfection. Most of the band members are in Marching Band and are encouraged to join this group but no student is required to do so. Surely their hard work has paid off for the 1988-89 school year has proved a successful and enjoyable one for the band.

"It's fun, but very tiring. I enjoy music and wanted to expand my musical horizons." Brian Wolfe.

"It's exciting. Students open a new part of their lives and yearn to have something personal to develop that's all theirs." Mr. Burke.

VISIONS

Monacan's literary — art — photography magazine underwent a number of changes to create a new and exciting piece of work. The previous year's name, Perspective, was given up for a new and lighter name, Visions. This name represented the changes and the addition of art and photography instead of sketches.

Visions had a hard-working staff dedicated to "displaying the talents of Monacan's students in the form of a magazine." Mrs. Judith Land, advisor, worked closely with Stacey Tan, editor-in-chief; Valerie King, literary editor; Brant Edwards, photography editor; Dina Jones, publicity manager; John Lamb, art editor; Brian Mason, business manager; and Lisa Hsu, design editor.

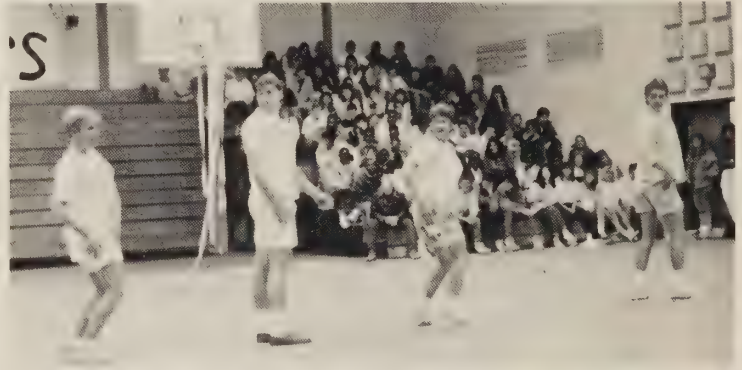

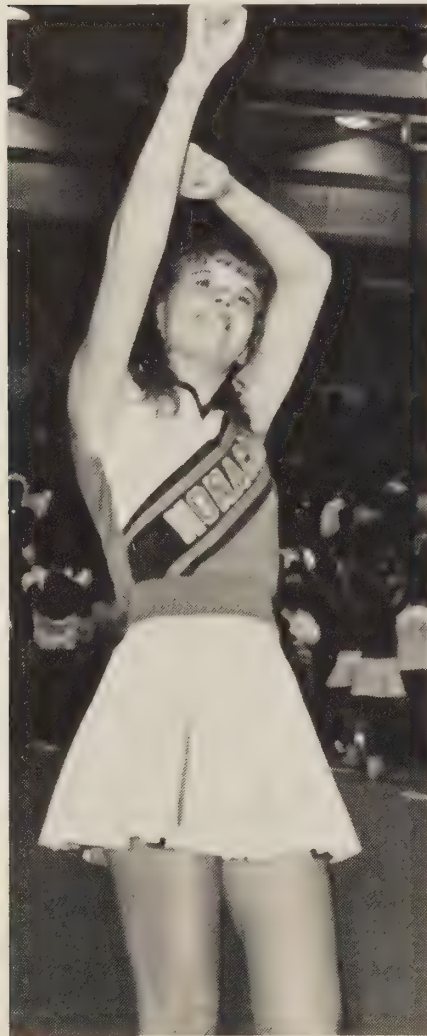

The staff was divided into four areas; the literary staff, the art and photography staff, the design, or layout staff, and the business and publicity staff. Various staffs met almost every day to put together the school magazine. Distribution of the magazine was done during all four lunches. It was sold for $3, and contained submitted works of poetry, prose, photography, and art work. This student oriented magazine belonged to the entire school.

Congratulations Staffers!

LITERARY CLUB

The Literary Club, sponsored by Ms. McGrath, was created in order for students to discuss literature. On Thursday afternoon the group would gather for philosophical discussions of great novels, stories, and poems. The club analyzed Animal Farm by George Orwell and Carrol's Alice in Wonderland as well as other short stories and poems. The group, with co-presidents Dina Jones and Cyndi Benson, prides itself on its peer organization which allows for thorough and often lengthy discussions. They have attended lectures by such personalities as Timothy Leary. Other officers include co-vice presidents Lisa Hsu and Adrienne Enggist, secretary Elena Geesy, and historian Stacey Tan.

Monacettes

The Monacettes with their sponsor, Mrs. Sabo, had an active year. In addition to promoting school spirit throughout the school, the Monacettes, consisting of 3 sophomores, 6 juniors, and 6 seniors, attended the NCA Superstar Dance Camp held at the University of Richmond, and the Miss Capital City Competition in Baltimore, MD on March 4. Practices were held every Tuesday-Thursday from 2:00-3:00. One member had this to say about practices: "Hard work and dedication is what makes the squad look good.

When the squad isn't dedicated it shows."

The captain of the squad was Jennifer Morris, and Co-

Captains were Michelle Pearce and Carrie Calleran. Most of the routines were original, but one was taken from camp. At the dance camp the following awards were won by our Monacettes; 1. Trophy for outstanding Home Routine. 2. Most improved dance team. 3. An award for having 94% of their ribbons blue or superior in "Individual Routines Learned." 4. Lori Marshall and Michelle Pearce won Superstar Ribbons for standing out in their group for "Individual Routines Learned." They were both invited to the Aloha Bowl in Hawaii. 5. Michelle Pearce won a trophy for performing with 40 or 50 other Superstars and also received an invitation to the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Ireland.

Jennifer Morris, Carrie Calleran, and Michelle Pearce were invited as a captain's squad to perform in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Jennifer and Michelle went and had the "time of their lives." They performed with 500 other officers from dance squads all over the U.S. They were the opening act in the parade on NBC. "We got to meet some famous people too! It was so fun!" Jennifer Morris said about their trip.

SCA

The Student Council Association, better known as SCA, addressed school issues that directly effect students, let the students voice be heard, and sponsored activities for student participation. Mr. Kenneth Butta was the sponsor of this club with approximately 25 representatives and officers. The officers included Amy Lynn Schmidt, President; Leann Scott, Vice President; Rita Narad, Secretary; and Chris Parker, Treasurer.

The SCA was involved in a variety of activities. At the start of the year the annual Freshman Social was held to introduce the Freshman to the world of High School. Once again SCA sponsored the Homecoming Dance which rewarded us with a record attendance. SCA was also active in helping with the Stonehenge Run, Teacher Appreciation Week, and the fundraising for other clubs. For their own fundraiser, though, the brown and yellow M&M boxes surfaced to raise funds for SCA.

SCA was once again active in community work. A blood drive was held to aid in the build up of Richmond area blood banks. At Christmas a canned food drive was held throughout the school to aid the homeless. All in all, with the help of its members, the students of Monacan, the SCA had a successful year.

Scott and Nadine enjoy the last dance.

VICA

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is an organization for students who are enrolled in trade and industrial, health and technical education programs. Through club activities which are planned, initiated, and conducted by VICA members, the organization promoted social and leadership skills as well as pride in personal workmanship. The club brings together students who share common interests, ideals, and purposes.

VICA had a great deal of fun this past year. The candy sales were a success and paid part of the expensive dues for some. The club dues helped put together a wonderful float for the Homecoming Parade with the other Vocational clubs. Some of the highlights of the year were: the Employer-Employee Banquet, the District XII picnic, and the District, State, and National Contests.

AMNESTY

Among all the changes at Monacan came a new club, the Amnesty International Monacan High School Group. The club has three main goals. 1) The release of prisoners of conscience, men, women, and children, imprisoned for their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language, or religious creed, provided they have not used or advocated violence. 2) Fair and prompt trials for all political prisoners and 3) end to torture and executions in all cases.

Amnesty's main activity was writing letters of appeal to leaders of various countries, where prisoners of conscience are being detained. Sponsor Mrs. Alexandria McGrath, Co-coordinators Scott Cribbs and Kara Cobbs, Urgent-Action coordinator Elizabeth Pate, and Co-student Action coordinators Adrienne Enggist and Mickie Rubenstein organized the club's activities. The group also planned guest speakers and videos to spark awareness among its members.

Suzy Clarke, a junior, has been a member of Amnesty for a year, she stated that, "Amnesty is a lot of help to those kept unjustly in prisons, and if enough of us write letters, then the message should get across and maybe they will be set free. If there are enough caring people at Monacan, then we can get a big successful group." Suzy may have proved right for there were 75 members of AI, all of whom wrote letters on behalf of many political prisoners. This year presented Monacan with a new club and a new cause, both of which seemed to be benefitting from the work of a number of Monacan students. Hopefully, Monacan's Amnesty group will inspire other schools and students to join in the fight for Human rights.

CHEERLEADING

"All for the Chiefs stand up and holler!" The Monacan cheerleaders did more than stand up, they jumped, screamed, clapped and cheered for the Chiefs. There were four squads. The newest squad was the Wrestling Cheerleaders who were sponsored by Patti Winship. This small but energetic squad was beside every match encouraging the wrestlers. Very few schools have wrestling cheerleaders so this squad was quite unique. The members of this squad deserve a lot of credit for being pioneers for the wrestlers.

The J.V. squad was sponsored by Denise Lowry. Captain, Jenny Snowden led the girls in cheering for the J.V. football and basketball teams. The freshman squad was sponsored by Sherlyn Hammett. This squad was picked after school started but with the help of the other squads they were prepared for basketball season.

The captain of the Varsity

Squad was Amy Rummel with Jennifer Pryor as co-captain and Tara Hicks as junior co-captain. Susan Raynes sponsored the girls in making banners for the pep rallies and planning skits which included selected football players. The girls decorated the field house for the football team and the locker room for the basketball team.

Before school began, the girls were already preparing. They attended the International Cheerleading Foundation Camp in July at UVA. The camp lasted 4 days where the girls learned a variety of cheers and chants. At the camp the girls received many awards including Best Execution and Originality, Most Spirited, and first place overall. Senior Bene Lippin said "Cheering is one of the best things to happen to me; I met my best friends and have a lot of great memories."

FOOTBALL

The 1988 season for the Varsity Chiefs was certainly an exciting one. In the last half of the season the team had a complete turnabout to obtain a four wins — one loss record, as compared to the one win — four losses record which started off the season. The Chiefs' first victory was over Meadowbrook. They defeated the Monarchs 7 to 6 and then went on to shut out the Trojans 21 to 0. The team achieved second place in the Dominion District, which qualified them for the regional playoffs. From there, the Chiefs moved on and led an outstanding victory, upsetting the number one ranked team, Varina, in the Regional Semifinal game. Next, the Chiefs went up against Mills Godwin in the Regional Finals. The team played to their fullest, and much effort was put into the game. Although the Chiefs were not victorious on the scoreboard, they played the best they could, and made their school well-known for their outstanding game.

Ken Brown was named first team All-Metro. On the second All-Metro team were Stan Clanton, linebacker, and Larry Petin, defensive back. In the All District Academic Team, Nick Krajacich, Sean Smith, Craig Warriner and Chris Walsh were chosen.

As the season came to an end, it was time for the awards. The coaches awarded the most valuable player to captains Ken Brown and Stan Clanton. The coaches' award went to Sean Smith. Larry Petin was given the Interception Record Award for his outstanding achievements on the field.

All in all, Ken Brown led the team in scoring with 68 points and in rushing, with 669 yards. Mike Dougherty led the team in passes received and punt returns. Stan Clanton had an outstanding 103 defensive plays. Other key players were free safety Mike Peasley, center, Doug McBride, linebackers Don West and Justin Andress. Sophomore Alonzo Bowler stepped in to take over Dougherty's position as quarterback and helped the team turn their season around.

The boys Varsity Chiefs began their season with the "twin towers" and high hopes only to see it turn into a year of frustration as they struggled to a season record of 3 and 20.

The Chiefs showed their determination by seldom being overwhelmed on the scoreboard, but the frustration developed because ten of the losses came by 6 points or less.

Opening the season against the highly ranked Manchester Lancers on their home floor, they fell 64-61. After three more games, the Chiefs still hadn't chalked up a win in the non-district games.

The district schedule began with Chief rival the Midlothian Trojans who were ranked in the Metro Top Ten. Led by Todd Francis, the Chiefs rally fell short in the fourth quarter, 55-51.

The Chiefs finally tasted victory when they traveled to Norfolk to take part in the Catholic Christmas Tourney. After losing to the host team by 3 and to T.C. Williams by 6, the Chiefs won 7th place by defeating Norfolk Academy (76-72).

Six games later the Chiefs defeated Clover Hill 55-52. Leading the Chiefs that night were Tommy Mensing with 17 points on 10-14 shooting at the foul line. Another 6 games would pass before the Chiefs would find themselves facing the 3rd seeded Huguenot Falcons in the opening round of the tournament. Having lost to the Falcons twice already, the Chiefs pulled the upset of the tournament when Tommy Mensing's 3 point shot hit "nothing but net" with 3 second left. The Falcons were defeated.

Todd Francis led the team in scoring, rebounding, and blocked shots. Rob Wesley was the leading free throw shooter while Tommy Mensing led in assists.

BASKETBALL

The Lady Chiefs basketball team completed what proved to be a successful season, overcoming several difficulties encountered earlier. The team was led by senior co-captains Jennifer Blackwell, Lynda Holley, and Katie Snow. With no starting players returning, the Lady Chiefs had a tough act to follow and had to start from scratch.

Leading the offense for the girls were Lynda Holley, a powerful force inside, a surprise prospect Karen Stigall, and three point specialist Robin Gary. In times of need, seniors Jennifer Blackwell and Lori Brown came through for the team with a crucial basket or foul shot.

While learning basketball techniques, the Lady Chiefs also learned what teamwork can produce. The expertise of coach Rosalie Wallace and the dedication and skill of the team players created a successful season.

The '88-'89 Junior Varsity Basketball team also pulled through with a good season. The girls learned that teamwork makes the difference. Working together, the team won nine games out of seventeen.

Ms. Rachel Jordan coached the JV Chiefs to their overall victory. They practiced and worked extremely hard throughout the season in order to improve and increase their skills.

Golf and success seem to go hand in hand. The golf team opened with a loss, but quickly got on the track of tasting sweet success by defeating such rivals as Manchester, Clover Hill, Byrd, and Meadowbrook. The team ended their '88 season with twelve wins and three losses. Such fine performances were coached by Matt Williams, who helped the team secure Co-District Champs.

On September fourth, the team traveled to District-T in which they played a tough game, but came through with second place in Regional. On to bigger and better things, the players went to the State Championships where they stroked their way to a delightful third place. Doug McCarthy had the low round as the team medalist with a score of 74.

Such success was made possible by an excellent coach and skilled players. Tommy Mensing, who greatly contributed to the team's winnings, was named Outstanding Golfer 1988. His achievements don't end there. He also gave Monacan a new school record of "Lowest Stroke" average. Layne Hood was voted "Most Improved Player" as he contributed his talent to the team from his freshman through senior years. Kevin McCarthy was given a coaches' award as he helped Mr. Williams show the other players the key to winning.

As everything has to end, the golf season finished in triumph. These victories were due to a talented team and coach of 1988.

TENNIS

This year's Lady Chiefs tennis team consisted of Freshman Laura Dent, Molly Hable, Brooke Metcalf, and Shannon Wright; Juniors Heather Colberg, LeAnn Scott, and Colleen Smythe; and Seniors Kathy Hayes and Stacie Rathjen. The team had two very big wins over George Wythe and Meadowbrook. When asked about their season, two year coach Libba Robertson answered, "I hope the girls can build some depth in the team and develop consistency in individual play."

The subject of collegiate play was a definite possibility for the Juniors of this past year. Colleen Smythe, the team's number one player had an overall record of 7-3 and was also on the top ranked doubles team with Heather Colberg. LeAnn Scott was the number four player on the team.

In the District Tournament, the Chiefs were represented by Colleen Smythe and Heather Colberg in singles, and the teams Kathy Hayes/LeAnn Scott and Colleen Smythe/

Heather Colberg in doubles. Going into the tournament seeded second, Colleen Smythe received a bye in the first round and went on to defeat her next two opponents in the quarter semi-finals. In the finals she met Shannon Cubitt of Midlothian, ranked sixth in the state, and was defeated in a hard fought match. Heather Colberg was defeated in the first round after successfully making it to the tournament.

In doubles play, the team of Colleen Smythe and Heather Colberg received a bye and in their quarterfinal match defeated a strong L. C. Bird team. When advancing to the semi-finals, play became a bit tougher and they were defeated by an extremely tough pair from Midlothian. The other doubles team of Kathy Hayes and LeAnn Scott were defeated by a very slim margin in the first round. Congratulations is extended to all of the Lady Chiefs on their season and best wishes.

TENNIS

The Boy's Tennis Team had an excellent season. The second game of the season the team defeated Mills Goodwin, something the team has never done before. The season ended with ten wins and five losses. In the Districts they had five wins, tied for first, then lost to Midlothian. In Regionals they placed second only to Douglas Freeman. In Individual play Jason Kinder won first place in the Dominion Districts. The doubles team of Jason Kinder and Casey Cason placed first in Districts and second in Regionals. The number three player, William Chen, made it to the All Academic District Team which consisted of only seven players from around the state.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Lady Chief field hockey team had an outstanding season. Their record was 10-2. The girls lost to Midlothian in the District which seated them second going into Regionals. The girls bounced back and defeated Midlothian to capture the Regional title. From there they went to States, a first for coach Ellie Dozier. The Lady Chiefs made their last appearance at States four years ago. The girls were defeated 1-0 in the first round of States.

The J.V. had a winning season also. Coaching the team was Slade Johnson. Strong players were Kerry Boyle and Stephanine Whitlow, who both got moved up to varsity. Other strong players were Liz Olsen, Amy Freeze, Colleen Snow and Cam Phibbs.

Leading the scoring drive for the varsity was Jodi Miller and Amy Metzger. Other strong offensive players were Renee Olsen, Katie Wright and Renee Womble in the wing positions. Combining both talents of offense and defense, Lynda Holley and Heather Eckenrode were the links to the team.

Goalie Kara Anderson was named most valuable defensive player. Other great defense was displayed by Kim King, Elizabeth Payne and Kathy Ramos.

This year was a special year for the girls because the team had 10 senior girls who have been playing hockey together for four years. This was Coach Dozier's third year of coaching and this was the year that the team decided they were going to States. The two goals that the field hockey team set were 1. to beat Midlothian: ACCOMPLISHED 2. to go to STATES: ACCOMPLISHED.

The 1988-89 Field Hockey team was a perfect example of how the Monacan Chiefs strive to accomplish their goals.

WRESTLING

The Varsity Wrestling team enjoyed another successful season this year, finishing the regular season with an 8-9 record and sending four wrestlers to the Virginia state tournament. The team began the year with an impressive third place finish in the Monacan Duals by beating Manchester and Petersburg, while losing to Woodberry Forest by a narrow margin. The Chiefs then lost to Thomas Dale before making an excellent showing in the Osbourn Christmas Tournament. The team rolled to two consecutive victories over George Wythe and L. C. Bird only to lose their next four matches. Monacan went on to win three of their next five meets and ended the season tied for second place in the district.

The varsity team went on to capture third place in the district meet, with first place finishes individually by Matt White, captain, and Danny McAllister. Wes Rainey, Kedron Holmes, and Jon Courington registered second place finishes, while Brandon Whitcher and Brian Heretick captured fourth place.

The Chiefs surprised the region with a strong third place finish in the Central Region Tournament. It was Monacan's second best finish ever. The team was lead by Matt White, fourth place, Danny McAllister, third place, John Courington, and Scott White became the fourth Monacan wrestler to win a regional title.

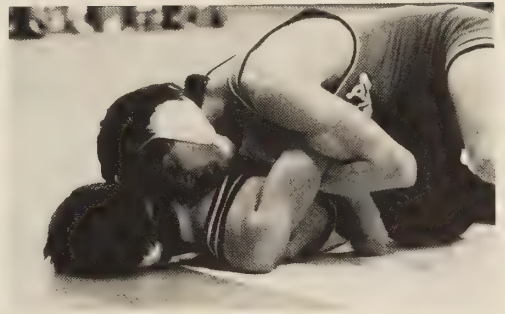

Scott White was named the most valuable wrestler, while Matt White was cited as most improved. The sportsmanship award went to Jon Courington.

Coaching the J.V. team was Mr. Carlton. This team had a crop of incoming freshmen and eighth graders and is expecting good things for the year to come. Some outstanding wrestlers were; Charles Hudson, Chris Karjasick, Jason Haddock, Steve Zucchi and Rusty Weaver.

GYMNASTICS

The Gymnastics Team finished the season with a perfect record of six wins and no losses. Following this impressive regular season the team went on to the Dominion District Tournament and the Dominion District Finals. In both of these they earned First Place and went on to the Regional Championships, where they earned Runner-Up.

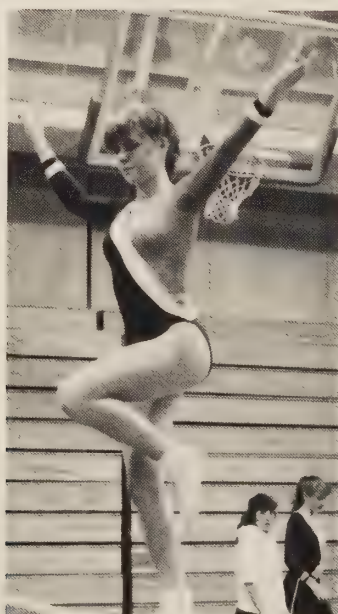

The Gymnastics Team, led by seniors Holly Redford and Amy Palsa, earned many awards at District and Regional Championships as well as several Monacan team awards. Julie Harper placed first in District and third in Regional for Floor, as well as earning Team's Most Improved Award. Sarah Cholewinski placed first in District and Regional in Beam. Jill French, who sustained a sprained ankle this season, placed first and second in District and Regional (respectively) in Vault and fourth and fifth in Beam. Team's Most Valuable Player Mary Averette scored high with a third in District and a sixth in Regional in Bars and District third and Regional fifth on Beam. Finally, senior Amy Palsa placed second in District and third in Regional for Bars and also earned the Coaches Award for Achievement.

Baseball

Varsity baseball in 1989 could best be described as a comeback team. In 16 of the 23 games the opposition scored in either the first or second inning. Showing poise and determination, the players would stick together and find ways to win.

The Chiefs ended their regular season tied for first place. In the playoff game against Clover Hill, Todd Campbell hit a grand slam in the bottom of the twelfth inning. In the Regionals, the Chiefs beat Meadowbrook, Tucker, and Lee-Davis. The Season ended in the state semi-finals when the Chiefs lost to Woodson 6-3.

Leading pitchers were Rob Wesley (8-1), Mike Dougherty (3-1), Mike Peasley (3-2), and Todd Campbell (3-1, 4 saves). At the plate the Chiefs were led by Dave Smith (.417, 12 RBI's), Todd Campbell (.396, 12 RBI's), Rob Wesley (.378, 12 RBI's), John Eliasek, Chris Porter, Mike Peasley, Aaron Cannaday, and Dan Rogers.

The J.V. season finished up 8-7-1. Doug Powell led the team in hitting (.447) with 1 home run, 9 doubles and 22 RBI's. Frank Holloman (.439) followed with 13 stolen bases and scored 16 runs. Chris Walsh anchored the pitching with 2.42 ERA. Several younger players including Jeff Zederman, David Acree, Donnie Redford and Clint Southall contributed to the team.

SOCCKER

The Varsity boys soccer team found success and grasped it. The team ended the season with an overall standing of 7-3-2 and a District standing of 6-2.

The team was rewarded for their hard work and long days of practice. They were the 1989 Dominion District Runners Up. In the Central Regional Tournament, the team moved into finals and became Central Regional Runners Up.

The J.V. boys soccer team finished first in the District with a 9-1-1 record last year. The team was led by captains Evan Boyd and Bobby Thatcher, who proved to be successful leaders on the successful team. It was a rebuilding year for the J.V. Chiefs and their new coach Chris Thomas, who said that he has never coached a finer bunch of soccer players.

The Chiefs avenged a 2-1 loss two years ago to the Trojans of Midlothian by beating them 3-1 in their first meeting, but later tied them in the other contest. The Clover Hill Cavaliers proved to be the Chiefs hardest two games last year, but Monacan went on to beat them in both games with just seconds on the clock. Overall it was an outstanding year for the J.V. Chiefs.

Pursuit leads to a successful season.

The Lady Chiefs Softball Team opened their season strongly, despite an immense amount of bad weather during preseason practice. Early in the season, the girls started out with an outstanding 7 victories, which included wins over state finalist, Meadowbrook and Dominion District Tournament champions, Clover Hill. The last half of the season went slowly for the Chiefs as they finished 6-4 in the district. Remarkably enough, the Chiefs had the best overall record in their district (13-4).

The Lady Chiefs went into the Dominion District Tournament with an impressive win over arch rival Midlothian. The Chiefs ended their season with an overall record of 14-5.

The team was led by Jodi Miller, who broke the all time career pitching victories at Monacan with 39 wins. Robin Gary, Crystal Carter and Cindy Kidd led the Chiefs defensively. Leading the offense were Colleen Smytheo and Laurie Brazeale. The Lady Chiefs also had several girls named to the All-District team. First team included Jodi Miller, Kathy Ramos, Robin Gary, and Laurie Brazeale.

The J.V. Softball team was coached by new comer Terri Peasley. The J.V. team had a victorious season. The team was led by Neki Hunter on the mound. The team included four eighth graders, all of whom started for the Chiefs. Great things are expected in the future.

ENGLISH

The English Department continued the use of the writing approach and all levels of students were encouraged to keep journals. This was one of the largest departments because it contained many electives including speech, yearbook, reading, journalism, and creative writing.

English teachers were not only involved in teaching grammar and literature. Ms. Parrish and Mrs. Land were winners in the Write Now contest sponsored by the county. Ms. Parrish also went to England over the summer with the students and began to pursue her doctorate at William and Mary. Ms. Pickels traveled extensively with students last summer.

This year Mrs. McGrath was involved in Amnesty and show choir. Mr. Carlton coached wrestling and football. The senior sponsors were Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Pendergraft, and Mrs. Ogburn. The English teachers held the Department of Gourmands. Most teachers participated in this at school or after school at another teacher's house.

But the English Department was not all fun and games. They had heavy amounts of paperwork due to the writing emphasis. Besides teaching grammar and literature, the English Department offered various rewarding opportunities for teachers and students.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The Social Studies department offered a full range of course offerings, ranging from the mandatory to the elective selections. Courses such as Economics and American Studies were among the alternatives.

In addition to a variety of course offerings, the members of the department willingly accepted additional responsibilities. Battle of the Brains, SADD, Track, wrestling and football were among the activities sponsored by these teachers.

As the year closed, the department bid farewell to a very special person, Mrs. Beverly Lacy, who had served as department chairman.

Mrs. Lacy welcomes Miss Hammett, a Monacan graduate.

A lighter moment in history.

MATH

The Math Department worked towards a year full of programs and activities that would challenge students to strive harder than before. The results of the extensive planning were outstanding. We were, and have been consistently among the top schools in the state in the Virginia Math League Contests. In '89, students were ranked as the top school in the county; this followed a legacy of success.

Mrs. Mariett Eggleston, head of the math department, was very proud of the accomplishments achieved during the year. Along with the accomplishments in the contests, the department planned new projects. For the first time, Discrete Math was offered as a new course. Math Week, which took place in April, gave a chance for students to participate in contests and games to show their skill in math. The department has accomplished much during the year, and still continues to set goals for itself. The Math teachers all strive to help educate students to become creative problem solvers. Although many may view math as being "tough," the department works toward adding a little pizzazz and fun to the work.

SCIENCE

The science teachers were busy and involved with their students. Science teachers and students went to the Science Museum to see the new Aerospace and Electromagnetism exhibit. They also taught a laboratory oriented class with constant laboratory setups. Activities such as these made science come alive.

The science teachers were also very much involved in other activities. Mrs. Quinley put a lot of her efforts into the Ecology Club; Mr. Conrad and Mr. Goehle sponsored what they liked teaching best, the Science Club. Candy was sold around school with the help of the SCA sponsor Mr. Butta. The freshman and sophomore classes were sponsored by Mrs. Pendleton and Mrs. Parker. Monacan was represented at the Science Fair by Mrs. Showalter and Mrs. Jefferson served as department chairperson who made a lot happen.

The Science Department was involved in extra curricular activities. They devoted so much of their time teaching and helping their students.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The Foreign Language Department allowed one to experience the language and culture of other worlds.

Various activities such as the International Cafe, increased student awareness. For the first time the Cafe was held during lunch and study periods. As always students were tempted to taste test delicacies from other countries. A scholarship was awarded with some of the profit.

An exchange program brought students from Germany, Japan and Spain. These students lived with Monacan families.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education department, staffed by eight persons, offered students a chance for greater physical education not only in mind but in body.

The department offered four courses, ninth and tenth grade physical education, adaptive physical education, and advanced physical education. The ninth and tenth grade curriculums had been fitness based since 1985, which meant there was emphasis on cardiovascular endurance, strength, flexibility, and body composition. The adaptive course offered activities which individually met the physical needs of specific students. The advanced physical education course offered a wide variety of lifetime activities, from rappelling and canoeing to rollerskating and raquetball.

Students at Monacan were able to pursue the academic and fitness goals while maintaining proper health and physical fitness. This was also the goal of the P.E. department.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Another year began and with it came changes. This provided the administrative staff with the extra challenge of dealing with a new set of rules. Principals, guidance counselors, custodians, and librarians all had to deal with changes in school regulations.

From the wee hours of the early morning to the late afternoon, our staff worked to keep the school running smoothly. Principals dealt with everything from jammed lockers to parking passes. The secretaries answered phones, looked for lost items and dealt with upset parents. The guidance counselors handled all of our schedules, college applications, and told us to keep our heads up when nothing seemed to go right. And of course the librarians helped with research papers and finding those "unfindable" sources.

The administrative staff kept everything in order by helping students and staff members in their daily dilemmas. Often taken for granted, they are the heart of our school. They truly make us, Chiefly Monacan.

Downtown Dancing and Dreaming (of Romance)

Medieval magic sparked a memorable evening for those who attended the prom and a record number of students, approximately 800, danced through the evening's music by the Magnetics.

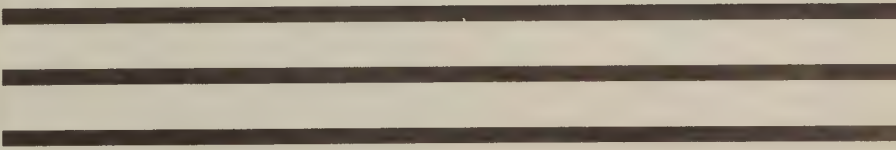

Early in the year Miss Pickels and Mr. Titus committed to make this prom a first. Seeking a more appropriate setting, the decision was finalized to move the prom off school grounds and the Richmond Center provided the perfect setting for A Time for Us.

The downtown location proved to be convenient for those who dined in the elegance of the restored areas of downtown Richmond. Students not only arrived earlier, but also remained later to enjoy classic rock.

Students completed the evening of magic with the SADD Cruise which was held at the Holiday Inn Koger Center.

Pleasure of Accomplishment

The End of the Beginning

As the year ended we had a new President, a revolution in China, and Lt. Governor L. Douglas Wilder became the Democratic nominee to become the first elected black governor.

Our athletes once again distinguished themselves and brought hard won fame to the school. Scholarships and accolades closed an outstanding year of learning. There could be no question that success was Chiefly Monacan's.
